

What makes Altamira your competitive advantage?

Our landfill waste experts have decades of experience and include many former waste regulators. They stay actively engaged with state agencies and apprised of rule changes to ensure Altamira is consistently updated on, and involved with, all aspects of the waste industry.

Our mission at Altamira is to solve our clients' most complex regulatory, operational, and business challenges by being the first choice and trusted partner for strategy, consulting, technical expertise, and digital technology solutions.

Landfill Waste Management

Landfill waste management is an essential part of a company's environmental stewardship. It provides a viable means of avoiding adverse effects on the environment and, ultimately, human health.

Waste is more than just managing basic refuse and Altamira recognizes every ancillary program and regulation that intertwines with waste services. Our experience in the landfill industry, combined with our relationships with state and federal agencies, enable us to offer expert landfill waste consulting services for a variety of specialized needs including the management of hazardous and non-hazardous waste, universal, recycled, and electronic wastes.
